April marks the ten-year anniversary of Berkley Design Professional and we couldn't be more excited! Over the past decade, we have established ourselves as a leader in the A&E marketplace by providing outstanding service to our brokers as well as comprehensive coverage, risk management support and exceptional claims handling for design professionals across the country.

The past ten years have been filled with some challenges and many successes, but throughout it all, our brokers have consistently supported and encouraged us. Our brokers have enabled us to grow and thrive and we are grateful for their unwavering commitment to Berkley Design Professional.

When we first started out, our vision was to create a business that would meet the unique needs of design professionals. Our goal was to provide insurance coverage that was tailored specifically to the risks faced by architects, engineers and other design professionals. Over the years, we have been able to do just that, offering a range of innovative insurance products designed to meet their diverse needs.

Our commitment to quality has earned us a reputation for excellence in the industry and we are proud to say that we have helped countless design professionals protect their businesses and livelihoods. We understand the importance of providing our policyholders and their brokers with the peace of mind that comes from knowing that we will provide the highest level of service and protection possible when the unthinkable happens.

We are also proud to have been able to give back to the design community over the years. Whether it is through supporting national and local design organizations, sponsoring association events or participating in community outreach initiatives, we are committed to being an active and engaged member of the design community.

Going forward, Berkley Design Professional is committed to continuing our tradition of excellence in the service we provide and innovation in the products we offer. We are excited to see what the next ten years and beyond will bring.

We know that the future holds many opportunities and we're confident that with the support of our brokers and colleagues, we'll make the most of them.

So, cheers to another ten years of growth, success and partnership!
